THE ROTARY PLEDGE

I do solemnly promise to help advance the object of Rotary, comply with the constitution and by-laws of Rotary International and the Rotary Club of Marikina, ever putting into practice Rotary's Motto: "SERVICE ABOVE SELF."

THE FOUR WAY TEST

Of things we think, say or do:

- Is it the TRUTH?
- Is it FAIR to all concerned?
- Will it build GOODWILL and better FRIENDSHIPS?
- Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

PRAYER

Our Father in Heaven, with grateful hearts we acknowledge your blessings in all our undertakings, accomplishment, possessions, and in everything we hold.

We also appreciate the trials and difficulties that come our ways as your way of making us strong, faithful and humble, so that we may truly be worthy to be called your children.

Bless our gathering today, that we may be enriched by it, not only in fellowship, but more importantly in service.

Bless our organization, so that Rotary may always be an effective vehicle in propagating your message of love, peace and understanding among nations.

May we always be ready to share all our blessings with others for the glory of your name.

Amen.

First Class Voyager

PRES. HERMIE DELA PAZ

Little by little, I begin to realize the great responsibility entrusted to being the president of the Rotary Club of Marikina. Not only are we the mother club and the leading club in our zone, we are also looked up to in our district as the bond that unifies and leads the zone in many district affairs. I just attended the 20th Charter Anniversary and 21st Induction Ceremony of our classmate FC President Deanry Francisco of RC San Juan del Monte, the home club of DGE and CP Marilou Co last night at the Multi-purpose Hall of the PNP at Camp Crame. It was a well- attended affair and almost all the PDGs were present. My classmate from RC Pasig Central, Mike Molino, was seated beside me in our table and his immediate comment to me was that they see our zone as a solid group with our club as its leader capable of organizing any big district event. He mentioned to me how he truly appreciates my assistance to his club during our Distas in Tagaytay. And he wishes to reciprocate this gesture. So if any from our club members need any assistance from the Philippine Heart Center for Asia, I can call on him anytime.

I also attended several other district and zone meetings and seminars during the past week. Last Saturday, I attended the Cluster 4 Interact Seminar at MRYC together with PE Dodjie Cabalquinto. The schedule of activities for our Interact clubs during the year was discussed together with what is expected from the sponsoring Rotary clubs in terms of support and assistance.

Last Sunday, we were invited by DDG and PP Vincent Santos and Sps. Eula to PP Vincent's induction as the new Prime Minister of the League of Visionary Presidents for RY 2013-2014. Again this was another well-attended affair at the Club Filipino, despite being a Sunday and a reserved family day for most of us. P P Zaldy Quimpo from RC Caloocan handover the leadership of the Visionary Presidents to PP Vincent, another testimony to the leadership role of RC Marikina in our district. PDG Rudy San Felipe, their Visionary Governor, even complimented our contingent from RC Marikina, which consisted of myself, Pres. Hermie de la Paz, PP Flor de la Paz with Sps Vising, PP Dante Verano, PP Eric Ignacio with Sps. Lydia, PP George Ty, PP Ronie Masangkay with Sps. Liza, and Dir Val Barcinal with IWCM Pres. Arlene Barcinal. Of course, almost all the PDGs and FCDG Louie Ticman were present, including our own PDG Efen de Guzman with Lady Pam and PDG Jun Farcon with Lady Zeny. Although this is not a strictly Rotary district affair, it certainly feels like so, with DG Louie even giving his message as the guest of honor and speaker.

We also had our Zone 4 First Class Presidents meeting together with all our AGs in the zone, including AG Ronie Masangkay, who gave us an update on the status of the Zone 4 project Mentoring the STARS. During our meeting, with me as the presiding officer, we discussed the schedule of all our incoming zone projects and events, including a proposed Zone 4 ten pin bowling fellowship one month before the start of the district ten pin bowling tournament on October 13, 2013. We will also have our first Zone 4 Interclub meeting in September. Our Zone 4 will also host the 2nd Leg of the District Golf Tournament on Nov. 8, 2013 with PP Noel Flores as the District Chair of the Tournament. At this early, we already have a sponsor for the Car prize at stake for the winner of the first Hole-in-One during the tournament. We have other joint zone projects on public image, literacy, new generation and the environment, which I will discuss in my future columns. I and my fellow FC Presidents truly appre-

Our Senior Rotarians: What they can still do (Age Doesn't Matter)

There is a proposed bill on process to “prohibit and penalize employers who will decline any application or forcibly lay off a worker on the basis of age and other forms of discrimination.” Senate Bill No. 29 or the Anti-Age Discriminatory in Employment Act of 2013 aims “to put an end to (what Sen. Pia Cayetano considered) an emerging type of discrimination in the labor front – discrimination in employment based on a person’s age.”¹

This bill’s basis is that the person’s KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS and QUALIFICATIONS should be the core of employment, not the person’s age.

I believe this idea also holds true in Rotary. Our Senior Rotarians can still provide something for the community albeit their present “level of development”. They have acquired knowledge that only experience can provide. Their physical prowess may be limited but their wisdom is priceless. And they have all this resource that younger people covet – time.

I believe that our Senior Rotarians must not stop in contributing to the community. It has its plus factors after all. By engaging in Rotary activities, they keep their mind and body active. By involving themselves in Rotary activities, they enrich their lives and the lives of other people. By being in the activities motivates other elderly people to also do something constructive and beneficial to the community and to themselves. The principle they exude to all generations is not to give up.

The younger generation can learn so much from our Seniors. The older generation can also learn from the young. The stories the elderly tell the younger generation can be full of lessons in life and love. The good changes that happen today can be a dawning to the elderly.

I believe the young and old can work harmoniously.... by rendering each other with consideration, honor and RESPECT.

*“Anyone who stops learning is old, whether at twenty or eighty. Anyone who keeps learning stays young. The greatest thing in life is to keep your mind young.” - Henry Ford

Rotary Leadership and Governance

All Rotary clubs are members of the global association Rotary International, which is overseen by an elected RI president and Board of Directors. The RI Board is responsible for establishing policy for Rotary International. Rotary's leadership team includes the RI Board of Directors, The Rotary Foundation Board of Trustees, and the executive staff of the Secretariat

The RI Board of Directors is the administrative body of Rotary International. Its members include the RI president, president-elect, vice president, treasurer, and the Rotary general secretary. Directors are nominated by Rotary clubs and elected to two-year terms at the RI Convention.

The Rotary Foundation is a charitable organization supported solely by voluntary contributions. Managed by a Board of Trustees and trustee chair, the Foundation provides financial support to help Rotary clubs and districts work together on meaningful, sustainable service.

The Rotary Foundation Board of Trustees is responsible for managing the business of the Foundation. Its members include the chair, chair-elect, vice chair, and the Rotary general secretary. Trustees are appointed to four-year terms by the RI president, with approval from the RI Board of Directors.

Rotary's general secretary manages the 800-member Rotary staff who serve Rotarians from RI World Headquarters in Evanston, Illinois, USA, and several international offices. The general secretary is a member of both the RI Board of Directors and The Rotary Foundation Board of Trustees. Rotary's staff includes a deputy general secretary and four general managers.

Every Rotary club and every district (groups of clubs) selects its own officers and enjoys considerable autonomy within the framework of Rotary's constitution and bylaws. ABF/July 25

Nitrogen's impacts on nature

(Continuation of last Valley Issue ECOLOGY TODAY July 18, 2013: Every Breath We Take – Air Quality)

It is not only human health that is affected by air pollution. Different air pollutants have different impacts on a wide range of ecosystems. Excess nitrogen, however, poses particular risks.

Nitrogen is one of the key nutrients found in the environment that plants need for healthy growth and survival. It can dissolve in water and is then absorbed by plants through their root systems. Because plants use large amounts of nitrogen and deplete the existing amounts in the soil, farmers and gardeners usually use fertilisers to add nutrients, including nitrogen, to the soil to boost production.

Airborne nitrogen has a similar effect. When deposited to water bodies or soils, extra nitrogen can work to the advantage of certain species in ecosystems where limited amounts of nutrients exist, such as the so-called 'sensitive ecosystems', with their unique flora and fauna. Excess nutrient supply in these ecosystems can completely alter the balance between species, and can lead to biodiversity loss in the affected area. In freshwater and coastal ecosystems, it can also contribute to algal blooms.

The ecosystems' response to excess nitrogen deposition is known as eutrophication. In the last two decades, the sensitive ecosystem area affected by eutrophication in the EU has declined only slightly. And today, almost half of the total area defined as sensitive ecosystems is estimated to be at risk of eutrophication.

Nitrogen compounds also contribute to the acidification of freshwaters or forest soils, affecting the species that are dependent on those ecosystems. Similar to the impacts of eutrophication, the new living conditions can favour some species to the detriment of others.

The EU has succeeded in significantly reducing the area of sensitive ecosystems affected by acidification, mainly thanks to strong reductions in sulphur dioxide emissions. Only a few hot-spot areas in the EU, in the Netherlands and Germany in particular, face acidification problems.

"The Jizerskehory Mts. Protected Landscape Area situated in the northern part of the Czech Republic belongs to the region which in the past was known infamously as 'the Black Triangle' due to its severe air pollution."

Leona Matoušková, Czech Republic

Pollution without borders

Although some areas and countries might experience its impacts on public health or the environment more severely than others, air pollution is a global problem.

Global winds mean that air pollutants move around the world. A part of the air pollutants and their precursors found in Europe are emitted in Asia and

RTN. JOEY RAMOS

In the year 2000, a Filipino programmer, Onel de Guzman created the ILOVEYOU virus. It was one of the first worms to effectively use social engineering to prompt victims to open the files, an innovation that was copied by many later forms of malware. ILOVEYOU was also one of the most virulent worms, purportedly infecting 45 million machines worldwide including White House, Congress and FBI, leading to more than $8 billion in damages! Everyone is vulnerable to this threat (including Rotarians like us) without the right knowledge on how to fully secure your computer. So here are the:

Top 10 Tips to help Secure your Computer

1. Ensure your operating system software is fully patched.

An un-patched operating system can be vulnerable to worms, Trojans, and other forms of attack. Ensure your operating system is kept up to date, and use automatic updates if possible. Many older operating systems are no longer supported by their vendors. You may need to upgrade your operating system to get the latest protection.

2. Use anti-virus software and ensure it is kept up to date.

You can purchase anti-virus software from one of the major companies, or there are also free alternatives on the Internet. Some Internet Service Providers offer anti-virus software either free as part of their package or for an additional fee.

Outdated anti-virus software is only slightly better than no anti-virus software. The propagation of new viruses is a frequent occurrence, and many vendors now update their software almost daily. If possible, set your software to update automatically.

3. Use a firewall.

A firewall can help protect your computer from hackers, who scan for open ports. The firewall works by hiding those ports and blocking suspicious traffic. Many new operating systems come with a firewall already installed. Most are now enabled by default, but double-check yours to ensure it is enabled. There are also free alternatives available on the Internet.

4. Use anti-spyware software.

Spyware can track your Internet viewing habits and in some instances steal passwords and other information. One symptom of a spyware infection can be a sluggish computer. Scan your entire hard drive periodically and be sure to download/install updates as they become available.

5. Be careful of software downloaded from the Internet.

While free software can be a valuable resource, you need to ensure you are getting software from a reputable source. Read reviews before installing a particular piece of software and be sure to read the terms and conditions of its usage.

6. Be careful of links and attachments in emails.

Even when the email sender is known, attachments can contain viruses or other malware, and links can lead to malicious websites. Only open expected attachments/links. If in doubt, contact the sender to check on the legitimacy of the attachments/links in question.

7. Learn to recognize 'phishing' emails.

"Phishing" emails purport to be from a financial institution or another website where you might do business. Their purpose is to trick you into revealing your logon credentials (or other personal infor-ciate our discussion with our AG Raul Evangelista after the meeting proper. He gave us pointers, insights and advice about Rotary and our role as club presidents which were not discussed during PETS or the DISTAS or even included in the RI manual of procedures. We look forward to our interactions with him and our other AGs in future meetings.

Last Monday, I was also invited to the district membership meeting and seminar on club extension, where all the DGSRs are in attendance, including our very own PP Roland Garcia, PP Tony Fidelino and PP Dindo Santos. PDG Jun Farcon, the district membership chairman, was the first speaker and he talked about how to organize a new club. All the club presidents of sponsoring clubs in the district were also invited to the meeting at the MRYC.

I am inviting all our members to witness the signing of our MOA with the City Government of Marikina as our partners in service on July 29, 2013 Monday at 8:00 AM during the flag ceremony in front of our city hall. Let us show our appreciation to the father of our city, Mayor and PP Del de Guzman, who has dedicated his life in providing humanitarian service to the people of our beloved community in Marikina, by honouring him as well.

This is the fourth entry in my journal and I know that I am just starting in my journey and the road ahead is still long and hard. Somehow, I know and feel that I am learning new things and meeting new people and going to new places during this voyage, which are some of my goals and expectations in the first place. And the experience gained during this journey is reward enough by itself. I hope you will also have an exciting journey. Thank you.

mation) via 'fake' websites (made to look like the real thing). To help mitigate this risk, open a new browser window and type in the address for the website you wish to initiate business with.

8. Be careful about the information you give out online.

Only give out sufficient information for the services you require. When giving out credit card (or other personal) information, ensure you are on a secure webpage. Look for the little yellow lock, which will appear usually near the top or bottom of the page, depending on your browser and version. Know who you are doing business with.

9. Pay attention to pop-ups.

Be sure to read the information contained in pop-up windows before hitting the 'OK' button. This can help to prevent malicious software from inadvertently being downloaded to your computer. To close these windows without hitting the 'OK' button, use the 'X' in the top right hand corner or use <ALT><F4>.

10. Stay alert and be diligent.

Ultimately, keeping your computer secure is up to you. Software can help with this task, but you must ensure it is kept up to date and remember that software can fail. In the event of a new virus, it is possible that your anti-virus software may not protect your computer. You must remain diligent in accessing the risk of email attachments/links. Pay attention to the website addresses where you do business. Be careful about what information you give out online.

North America. Similarly, a part of the pollutants released into the air in Europe are transported to other regions and continents.

The same is also true on a smaller scale. The air quality in urban areas is generally affected by the air quality in the surrounding rural areas and vice versa.

'We breathe all the time and are exposed to air pollution — whether indoors or outdoors,' says Erik Lebet from the National Institute for Public Health and the Environment (RIVM) in the Netherlands. 'Everywhere we go we are breathing air, which is contaminated with a whole range of pollutants at levels where you can sometimes expect adverse health effects. Unfortunately, there is no place where we can breathe only clean air.'
