THE ROTARY PLEDGE

I do solemnly promise to help advance the object of Rotary, comply with the constitution and by-laws of Rotary International and the Rotary Club of Marikina, ever putting into practice Rotary's Motto: "SERVICE ABOVE SELF."

THE FOUR WAY TEST

Of things we think, say or do:

- Is it the TRUTH?
- Is it FAIR to all concerned?
- Will it build GOODWILL and better FRIENDSHIPS?
- Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

PRAYER

Dearest Heavenly Father, we want to thank you for the precious gift of love you have given to us and to the world . Thank you for blessing us every day with this love and the power and strength that we get from you every single day to sustain us.

Please continue to let us feel your comforting love in our lives and Lord we give ourselves over to you to perfect in us this gift of love that we may be able to express it and share it with others. Lord we want to be like your Son Jesus so please continue the work you are doing in our heart so that our heart will be like yours. All these we ask in the name of Your Son Jesus our Lord. Amen.

Congratulations!

As a Rotarian engaged in business or profession, I am expected to:

1. Consider my vocation to be another opportunity to serve;
2. Be faithful to the letter and to the spirit of ethical codes of my vocation, to the laws of my country, and to the moral standards of my community
3. Do all in my power to dignify my vocation and to promote the highest ethical standards in my chosen vocation
4. Be fair to my employees, associates, competitors, customers, the public and all those with whom I have business or professional relationship;
5. Recognize the honor and respect due to all occupations which are useful to society;
6. Offer my vocational talents; to provide opportunities for young people; to work for the relief of the special needs of others, and to improve the quality of life in the community.
7. Adhere to honesty in my advertising and in all representations to the public concerning my business or profession
8. Neither seek from nor grant to a fellow Rotarian a privilege or advantage not normally accorded to others in a business or professional relationships

GOLDEN PRESIDENT

Pres. Jaime N. Cabalquinto

The construction of our Rotary Marker is finally finished. District Governor Marilou Co will unveil the marker on Sunday February 22, 2015, at 3:00pm. The Rotary Marker and the Rotary Park are joint projects of the Rotary Club of Marikina with its daughter clubs, RC Marikina North, RC Marikina Central, RC Marikina East, RC Rivercity Marikina, RC Marikina Hilltop, RC Marikina South and the Rotary E-club of Marikina. The unveiling of the marker is the start of our month long celebration of our 50th Golden Anniversary and our Rotary Day Celebration for the anniversary of the Rotary International on February 23, 2015. May I request everyone to join the unveiling and for a photo opportunity again with our Governor Marilou Co. Please come wearing our white with yellow-gold collar shirt.

Last week February 12, 2015 we witness the 1st Charter Anniversary of our daughter club RC Marikina Valley at the 2nd floor of the Centro Pang Kultura also known as Kapitan Moy. Charter President Julie Malaya with her Directors, Officers and members did a very good job with their preparations. The place was decorated beautifully and the food taste great. The program and presentations went well. I personally thanked CP Julie for inviting all the members of our club and congratulated her for a job well done and an outstanding performance as a Best Class President.

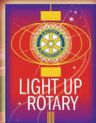

Late last month we wrote a letter to RI President Garry Huang informing him of our 50th Anniversary and requested him for his message which will be included in our souvenir program. In less than 2 weeks, I received a package from RI containing the President's message and a Certificate of Recognition, Honoring our 50 years of membership in Rotary International. I am so amazed of the quick response of the RI President Garry Huang and I am very glad that such recognition was given to us by the Rotary international. I would like to extend my sincere and deepest gratitude to RI President Garry Huang and to the Rotary International.

Last Friday, District 3800 celebrated its Valentines Party at the Valle Verde Country Club. Past District Governor Efren de Guzman and sps. Pam, Associate District Secretary Vincent Santos and sps Eula, Assistant Governor Dante Verano and sps Noemi and I are among the Rotarians and spouses enjoying and having fun during the evening. I was forced by my classmates Best Class President Alex and Nitri to join them and play the percussion. That night, I became an instant member of the BCP Band. I'm glad they did. It brought back memories when I use to play in school.

Palarotary 2015, hosted by RC Rivercity Marikina, was held last Sunday February 15, 2015 at the Marikina Sports Center. The whole day event was attended by all the zones of the District. Zone 4, for the 3rd year won the Championship on the Basketball game and 2nd year on the Volleyball game. PN Chris Merino, IDir, Peter Co, Rtn. Rogel Santiago, Auditor Roman Villame, Rtn. Jonjon Cabarubias, Rtn. And Gilbert Ong, are among those who joined in the various games. Many from our club supported thru cheering for the zone team. It was a fun and fulfilling day for the club and the district as well.

Tonight, we are having our Ladies Night and Post Valentines Party. Thanks you to Dir. Manny Pecho and Sps. Marivic, ADS. Vincent Santos, PN Chris Merino, Rtn. PP George Ty, PP Benjie Malaya, Rtn. Dan Sibal, Rtn. Peter Co and PRO Joel Rellve. These are the men and Lady behind our Valentines Party. They have volunteered to make this evening a very memorable one especially to all the couples. I am also very happy and honored having a very special guest tonight. Past District Governor Mitchio Ajito with his lovely spouse Past District Governor Lady Koko and daughter Kasuko of Rotary Club of Sukagawa, Fukushima, Japan are here with us to celebrate Valentines.

THE LEGEND OF ST. VALENTINE

The history of Valentine's Day—and the story of its patron saint—is shrouded in mystery. We do know that February has long been celebrated as a month of romance, and that St. Valentine's Day, as we know it today, contains vestiges of both Christian and ancient Roman tradition. But who was Saint Valentine, and how did he become associated with this ancient rite?

Did You Know?

Approximately 150 million Valentine's Day cards are exchanged annually, making Valentine's Day the second most popular card-sending holiday after Christmas.

The Catholic Church recognizes at least three different saints named Valentine or Valentinus, all of whom were martyred. One legend contends that Valentine was a priest who served during the third century in Rome. When Emperor Claudius II decided that single men made better soldiers than those with wives and families, he outlawed marriage for young men. Valentine, realizing the injustice of the decree, defied Claudius and continued to perform marriages for young lovers in secret. When Valentine's actions were discovered, Claudius ordered that he be put to death.

Other stories suggest that Valentine may have been killed for attempting to help Christians escape harsh Roman prisons, where they were often beaten and tortured. According to one legend, an imprisoned Valentine actually sent the first "valentine" greeting himself after he fell in love with a young girl—possibly his jailor's daughter—who visited him during his confinement. Before his death, it is alleged that he wrote her a letter signed "From your Valentine," an expression that is still in use today. Although the truth behind the Valentine legends is murky, the stories all emphasize his appeal as a sympathetic, heroic and—most importantly—romantic figure. By the Middle Ages, perhaps thanks to this reputation, Valentine would become one of the most popular saints in England and France.

Intense summer program gives Israeli and Palestinian teens new perspectives

Students from Israel and Palestine sat together at a local art studio in Encinitas, California, USA, one day last summer, drawing portraits of one another and learning how to live in peace.

Kelly Mellos, an organizer of the project from the Rotary Club of Encinitas Coastal, says that drawing someone who is sitting so close helps break down social barriers between the young people. "They see how many similarities there are between them," she says. "And they begin to understand we are all just people. There is a respect and trust that builds."

The students were participating in a program run by Hands of Peace, which every year brings together Jewish-Israeli, Palestinian-Israeli, and Palestinian teens, along with local students from a variety of religious backgrounds, for 18 days of dialogue and team-building exercises. The 12-year-old organization, which began in Chicago, expanded its program to the San Diego area in 2014.

Professional facilitators lead the sessions, in which the teenagers learn about different cultures and religions and are exposed to a range of perspectives on the Middle East conflict. The program's goal is to have the students use what they learn to engage in peace-building efforts in their everyday lives and in their communities.

Rotary's involvement

During the program, the young participants stay with host families, some of which have included Rotary members. Rotary members also serve as volunteers and take part in community forums, seminars, and other peace-building events. The Rotary Clubs of Encinitas Coastal and La Jolla Golden Triangle in California and the Rotary Club of Glenview-Sunrise in Illinois provide financial support.

Mellos got involved after Scott Silk, a history teacher at Pacific Ridge School, a private college preparatory school, and now director of Hands of Peace's San Diego branch, visited her club two years ago while organizing the branch. Mellos developed the art workshop because she believes art has the power to bring people together.

"I teach them to look at the big patterns and shapes," Mellos explains. "It is suddenly as if you can't be too specific about a person's story; you are seeing the beautiful patterns that make them up. And then you are seeing each other as people, not as Israeli or Palestinian, not as narratives, but as creations."

Jim and Gail Tatsuda began hosting student participants after a Hands of Peace volunteer spoke to the Rotary Club of Glenview-Sunrise in suburban Chicago. They have hosted four students, and have remained close to all of them. Gail, who is Jewish, recalls being touched when the mother of their second student, Mohammed, a Muslim from the West Bank, learned she had a bad cold.

"She had been calling every morning to talk to her son, but now she called to talk to me," Gail recalls. "She would say, 'Are you taking your honey and lemon juice like I told you? Are you taking it three times a day?' I would get off the phone and think: Here I am, this little Jewish woman, and I have a dear friend who is a Muslim Palestinian."

77 photography techniques, tips and tricks for taking pictures of anything

Landscape photography technique 02: level horizons

Most of the time you'll want the horizon in a picture to be level. This is especially true if you're shooting seascapes, otherwise the water will appear to be running out of the frame.

Your camera's Live View screen has a grid overlay that can be activated in the menu to ensure horizons are level, and it may also have an electronic level display that can be superimposed over the image.

If your camera lacks these features, use the rows of autofocus points you can see in the viewfinder as a rough guide to keeping the horizon straight.

Landscape photography technique 03: hyperfocal focusing technique

Depth of field is an important consideration when photographing landscapes. It's often desirable to get as much of a view – from foreground details to the distant horizon – to appear as sharp as possible.

To increase the depth of field, choose smaller apertures and then manually focus at the hyperfocal distance. This is the point at which the depth of field will stretch from approximately half the hyperfocal distance to infinity.

The hyperfocal distance changes according to the focal length and aperture being used, so we'd advise using one of the many useful hyperfocal smartphone apps available to do the calculations for you.

Mohammed later attended high school in Italy and then received a full scholarship to Lake Forest College, not far from Glenview. When he graduates, his parents plan to stay with the Tatsudas.

"Once these kids go through the program and meet each other, it's life-changing for them," Gail says. "I heard one of the kids asking one of the others, 'What if you see me at one of the checkpoints -- are you going to aim a gun at me?' And the other kid said, 'No, I could not do that. I would treat you respectfully.'"

Participants praise program

"It was really surprising to hear things I'd never heard before. The dialogues can be really hard, very intense," says Hagar, an Israeli teen invited back last summer to provide peer support to new Hands of Peace participants. "I thought the program might change how I see Palestinians, which it did. But I didn't think I would bond this much with the other participants. They are part of my life now; we talk all the time."

Alumni programs bring past participants together for seminars and workshops several times a year in Israel, providing them with a support network to pursue what they have learned. Inspired by the program, Hagar is working with a student from Tel Aviv to organize a soccer game for Israeli and Palestinian youth in Nazareth. They have spoken with city officials and soccer clubs, and hope to raise enough money to hold the event soon. "We want [the players] to understand they are humans and they have the same interests and enjoy the same things."

Roxanne, a high school student in Carlsbad, California, was participating in last summer's program when news broke that Israeli ground troops were entering Gaza.

"No one was sure what was going to happen [in the program]," she recalls. "Would people start fighting, or break into their own delegations and not talk for the remainder of the trip? But then an Israeli girl stood up and bowed her head for a moment of silence, and then everyone else stood up. And then everyone started crying. We all came together that day and embraced each other.

"It was just incredible to see that, even though they all had family on different sides of the conflict, they had built friendships that could transcend all that was unfolding."

This afternoon, PDG Efen de Guzman and I brought PDG Ajito to the Rotary Marker and Rotary Park for a short stop and a photo ops before heading to the Malanday Elementary School. At the Malanday Elem. School, PDGAjito visited the Computer Laboratory with 20 computers which the Rotary Club of Fukushima fully renovated and donated during the time of Past President Del R. de Guzman. It is a project many students from Malanday benefited from and many more in the coming school year.

Lastly, next week, February 27, 2015, our zone is the host for the District Golf Tournament at the Valley Golf Country Club and I'm encouraging all the golfers of our club to play golf. For noon-golfers I'm also asking your support by joining us especially in the evening during the Awards. There will be singing and dancing all thru the night. I'm also asking for support by soliciting a Hole Sponsorship to your friends and business associates. Proceeds will be for the service projects of Rotary. Thank you very much!
